Three Negroes Arrested.

Some time early in October the dry goods store of Oldham Bros. & Co. was broken into in the rear and about $60 to $100 worth of goods stolen. No clue was obtainable at the time and the officers were at a loss to know what to do. Policeman Tipton learned that a negro named Henry Nelson had been going to Winchester and disposing of a lot of dry goods and notions and finally succeeded in trapping him and had him arrested in that city. He made a confession, implicating Strother Jameson and John Anderson, also colored, of this city, and Tipton then arrested these men here and lodged them in jail. Very little of the goods were recovered.

When confronted by the confession of Nelson, Jameson also broke down and admitted his guilt.

M'CORMICK REVERSED

By Majority of Local Option Contest Board Yesterday.

Case Will Likely be Appealed to Circuit Court.

When the Contest Board, composed of County Judge McCormick, and Magistrates C. G. Thompson and Jno. C. Trimble, met Saturday to hear the contest filed by Wm. Botts, etc., to set aside the recent local option election held in this county, objection was made to Judge McCormick as a member of the board on the ground he had already passed on the points involved, and after considering the matter he decided to vacate the bench, and Keller Greene, County Court Clerk, was called, as the law requires, to fill the vacancy.

After hearing the evidence and argument of counsel, Messrs. Thompson and Trimble, constituting a majority of the Board, decided that the County Judge erred in calling the election, after a sufficient number of the original signers of the petition had withdrawn to reduce the number to less than the requisite twenty-five per cent, and further erred in permitting the petitioners to file supplemental petitions on the trial. County Clerk Greene dissented from the judgment of the majority.

An appeal will likely be taken by the "drys" to the Circuit Court and the losing side there will undoubtedly appeal to the Court of Appeals, where the matter will be finally determined.

To Be Buried Here.

The body of Mrs. Jennie Hood Insted, who died Tuesday at Tacoma, Washington, will arrive here Saturday at noon and funeral services will be conducted at the grave. Deceased was a daughter of Jas. Hood and has many relatives and friends in this city and county to mourn her loss.

Nearly all the big film companies, the buyers of photoplays, are located in or near NEW YORK CITY. Being right on the spot, and knowing at all times just what sort of plots are wanted by the producers, our SALES DEPARTMENT has a tremendous advantage over agencies situated in distant cities.

We have received many letters from the big film manufacturers, such as VITAGRAPH, EDISON, ESSANAY, LUBIN, SOLAX, IMP, REX, RELIANCE, CHAMPION, COMET, MELIES, ETC., urging us to send photoplays to them. We want more writers and we'll gladly teach you the secrets of success.

We are selling photoplays written by people who "never before wrote a line for publication."

FIGHT WILL GO ON.

It Makes No Difference Who The Leader May Be.

"The fight will go ahead. It doesn't make any difference who the leader is to be, the cause will go on."

Col. Roosevelt thus commented on the result of the election. The Colonel read with satisfaction a stack of telegrams from Progressive leaders the country over, that showed that the Republican party had been smashed in nearly every State.

Roosevelt feels keen disappointment over the defeat of Oscar Straus for Governor of New York. Another disappointment was the defeat of Beveridge, of Indiana. But against these the Colonel found intense satisfaction in the victory in Illinois and other States swept by the Progressives. The Colonel declined to go into any discussion as to what the Progressive party would do in 1916 or if he would consent to lead it if the call came to him.

HEIGHT OF SMELTER STACKS

Saving in Metals in Smelting Process Increases With Altitude of Stack.

It is generally supposed that the stacks of smelters are built to a great height in order to get rid of the smoke. That is partially the reason, but it is principally because the higher the stack the greater the saving in metals to the smelting company. The action of the blast furnaces carries fine dust containing minute particles of gold or silver out with the fumes. This is first precipitated in what is called a dust chamber, a room several hundred feet in length and many times wider than the vent from the furnace. Much of the dust settles there. Then the fumes from the molten metal enter the stack. By that time their temperature is greatly reduced. The higher the stack the cooler the dust will become, and the wider it is the slower, relatively, it will move as it approaches the top. After it cools it loses a measure of its buoyancy and settles down to the base of the stack. The dust is gathered up by mechanical scrapers in the flue chambers, is dampened and pressed into little disks like biscuits. When these dry they are thrown back into the blast furnaces again.—Harper's Weekly.

WILSON STATES POSITION.

freedom of Enterprise for the Whole Country Will Be His Object.

ASKS THE PEOPLE'S AID.

President-elect Woodrow Wilson issued a statement in which he declared that "honest business" need have no fear of disaster as a result of the great Democratic victory, and pledged himself to secure a government released from all selfish and private influence and devoted to justice and progress. The Governor wrote the statement immediately after he arose from a sleep of eleven hours shortly before noon and immediately gave it to the newspaper men, who had besieged the Wilson home since early morning.

It was as follows:

"The result filled me with hope that thoughtful progressive voters of the nation may now at last unite to give the country freedom of enterprise and a government released from all selfish and private influence, devote to justice."

"There is absolutely nothing for the honest and enlightened business men of the country to fear. No man whose business is conducted without violation of the right of free competition and without such private understandings and secret alliances as violate the principles of our law and the policy of all wholesome commerce and enterprise, need fear either interference or embarrassment from the administration. Our hope and purpose is now to bring all the free forces of the nation into active and intelligent co-operation and to give to our prosperity a freshness and spirit and a confidence such as it has not had in our time."

"The responsibilities of the task are tremendous, but they are common responsibilities which all leaders of action and opinion must share. And with the confidence of the people behind us, everything that is right is possible. My own ambition will be more than satisfied if I may be permitted to be the frank spokesman of the nation's thoughtful purpose in these great matters."

President-elect Wilson sent the following telegram to President Taft at Washington:

"I warmly appreciate your kind message and wish to express my sincere personal regards."

To Colonel Roosevelt at Oyster Bay Mr. Wilson sent this message:

"My sincere thanks for your kind message. Pray accept my cordial good wishes."

Thousands of messages of congratulations poured in upon the President-elect. It required eighteen telegraph operators to handle the enormous rush of business which was suddenly brought to Princeton by the election of Mr. Wilson.

From Oscar Straus came the following:

"I congratulate you upon your election and wish you the fullest measure of success throughout your administration."

From W. J. Bryan:

"I am glad to report that you have carried my State, the city of Lincoln and my precinct. Your success here adds to my enjoyment of your national victory."

Conserve the Beef Supply.
We take from an exchange a brief article telling of the plans to prohibit the slaughter of calves, which is coming to be a matter of National concern. The slaughter of calves for veal is wasteful from every standpoint. It seems beyond comprehension that, before this some steps should not have been taken to prevent the continuance of this wasteful custom.

We saw in one of our exchanges a few days ago advice to its readers to use mutton instead of beef or pork, because of the greater supply, and therefore cheaper price of mutton. Doubtless good advice to those who like mutton as well as they do beef or pork, but better advice still would be to conserve and increase the supply of beef and pork. We are constantly impressed with the waste of the natural resources of the country, in the failure of the public to take advantage of the opportunity to secure fish from the streams and lakes, and game from wild places. Under proper laws, rigidly enforced, the streams of Kentucky would bountifully supply the people of the State with fish, there would be quail and doves and wild turkey, and ever deer would not be so rare as to be practically unknown to the great majority of Kentuckians.

The officers of the State and of the various counties can render no greater service than to rigidly enforce the present fish and game laws so that there may be an increase of both fish and game. And it would, in our judgment, be well for Kentucky to lead the other states in the passage of a law prohibiting the slaughter of calves under a certain age. Our contemporary says:

PLANS TO SAVE THE CALF.
"The National Live Stock Exchange plans action to solve the cattle shortage problem. The first step will be an appeal to Congress asking Government regulation of the slaughtering of calves. A bill proposes the forbidding of shipping or transporting by common carrier of any live calf unaccompanied by its mother unless it be six weeks old or over. The Secretary of Agriculture may permit shipments between the age of three and six weeks old when the entire time consumed is less than twelve hours; with emergency shipments of calves less than six weeks old. Violation is a misdemeanor, with fine of between $20 and $50 for each calf.

"Speaking at the convention of the exchange in Portland, Ore., lately, Horace H. Fletcher, of Indianapolis, pointed out that, in 1910, of 20,000,000 cattle of all kinds slaughtered, 4,600,000 or more than 20 per cent were calves. Compared with 1900, killing of calves increased seven-fold. As the instance of the tremendous waste of this system, Mr. Fletcher quotes the following report to him of the Indianapolis Abattoir Co., made this year:

"A lot of 199 head of one to two-year-old steers weighed 218,420 pounds and represented a value of $17,169.37 on the hoof. The average of these cattle was $7.86 per cwt. The average price of the calves in this connection was $7.60 per cwt. The calf killing-sheet showed that it took 1,492 head of calves of the average weight of those slaughtered to offset this lot of steers in live weight, and that 1,600 such calves were required to produce an equal sum of money for the man who marketed them."

1913 Models of The Indian Motorcycle

Following the "14 Important Improvements" of 1912, the Hendee Mfg. Company announce no less than a dozen additional new features in their 1913 model of the Indian Motorcycle.

By far the most significant feature of the new machine is the Cradle Spring Frame. It is something entirely new, a radical departure from the conventional bicycle and recent motorcycle systems of "springing." Briefly, the new device consists of the application to the rear wheel of the Indian Cradle Spring device as used on the front fork for the past three years.

Extending back horizontally from the frame joint cluster under the saddle, flanking the rear mud guard, are two 7-leaf Chrome Vanadium steel springs. The "C" shaped curls at the rear end of these springs are connected by stays to bell cranks on which the rear axle is hung. The forward end of the rear fork has a hinge joint which enable the rear wheel to yield to imperfections of road surface. All shocks are completely absorbed by the leaf springs. The rear wheel can go through almost any vertical motion without affecting the body of the machine. There is "no bottom" to this spring device. The life of the machine is greatly increased.

The Engineering Department of the Hendee Mfg. Co. devoted 18 months of exhaustive test to the Cradle Spring Frame before finally deciding on its adoption for all models of the 1913 Indian.

In addition to the Cradle Spring Frame, the 1913 Indian embodies to other important improvements which will be appreciated by motorcycle riders in general. Prices remain the same as last year.

New style, single clinch rims; larger tires, wider mud guards front and rear with larger splashers; casing for upper stretch of transmission chain and curve of sprocket; larger luggage carrier in rear, fitted to all models; foot rests, as well as pedals, fitted to regular 4 h. p. and 7 h. p. models; foot brake lever fitted on left side now operates band brake as well as the pedal action; larger size multiple disc clutch now fitted to all models alike; improved Indian type saddle.

All 1913 Indians will be chain driven and finished in Indian red only.

POLITICAL ANNOUNCEMENTS.

No announcement will be inserted until paid for.

We are authorized to announce:

WILLIAM O. CHENNAULT, SR.

as a candidate for County Judge, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary, August 2, 1934.

W. O. CHENNAULT.

In the proper column appears the authorized announcement of Mr. W. O. Chennault as an aspirant for the Democratic nomination for County Judge.

Mr. Chennault really needs no introduction to the people of Montgomery county, having lived here in our midst for many years and being widely and favorably known by nearly all of our citizens.

After leaving the local public schools he spent two years at Center College, now Central University, of Danville, and later graduated with high honors at Princeton University, of which institution the Hon. Woodrow Wilson was for years president. Returning home, he studied law and was admitted to the bar and engaged for a time in the active practice of his profession. Later he retired to his farm, upon which he now lives, though always taking an active interest in a number of important litigations, necessitating his keeping in close touch with the demands of the highest court of our State.

For some years he was Master in Chancery of the Montgomery Common Pleas Court and discharged his duties fearlessly, impartially and with general satisfaction. Being thoroughly acquainted with the duties of the office of County Judge, he promises, if elected, to give his entire time to it; to give equal justice to all; to take an active interest in the expenditure of public funds, especially on the roads of the county, with the view of bettering conditions generally and to watch zealously the interests of the taxpayer upon all matters connected with the business of the public.

Being a scholarly gentleman and worthy Democrat, we submit his claims for the nomination for County Judge and ask that they be given thoughtful consideration.

AN EMERGENCY DOES EXIST.

Under the law, before the Governor can employ counsel to assist the Attorney General, the latter must ask it on the ground of an existing emergency. Much has appeared in the press of the State regarding the suits growing out of the action of the State Board of Valuation and Assessment, materially increasing the value of franchises of the various railroads and public service corporations of the State.

In this suit there are eighteen of the ablest corporation lawyers of the country on the side of the corporations; if the Board is sustained, it will mean millions of dollars to the people of Kentucky and without reflecting on the integrity or ability of our Attorney General, we feel warranted in asserting that if an emergency does not now exist, this generation shall never see one.

The children and friends of Mrs. Amisetta Hoskins, after preparing a delicious lunch of substantial and dainties, repaired to her home on the Kiddville pike, and finding her away, which had been previously arranged, proceeded to make ready for the feast by loading the table with the many good things to eat. She was then telephoned to return home, and great was her surprise on her arrival to be greeted by so many unexpected guests. She was escorted to the dining room and seated as the guest of honor. After partaking of the bountiful supply of good things to eat, all spent a pleasant afternoon, departing wishing Mrs. Hoskins may spend many more anniversaries of her birth as happily as that of her 62nd on November 8, 1912.

CHILD WELFARE EXHIBIT AND CONFERENCE AT LOUISVILLE
NOVEMBER 21-30.

TO BE HELD IN BIG ARMORY

For The Redemption of the Young of the Present Generation and Future Generations Great Meeting
Will be Held.

The Kentucky Child Welfare Conference and Exhibit, designed for the ultimate redemption of the children of Kentucky, even until the third and fourth generations and primarily designed for the reclamation of these children of the present generation, will be held in the commodious First Regiment Armory in Louisville, November 21-30. The exhibit proper will be in session ten days. The conference will be in session three days, November 25-27 and the conference will be held in the Warren Memorial Presbyterian Church, corner Fourth and Broadway, one of the most convenient meeting places in Louisville.

That the child is father to the man is the belief of those back of the Child Welfare Exhibit, and to give the child at least an even break for health, liberty and pursuit of happiness its aim. The purpose of the exhibit will be shown "What we are doing for children; what we are not doing for children; what we ought to do for children."

The Kentucky Child Welfare Exhibit organization has been in existence since last January, but its work has been so unostentatious, so quiet, so unobtrusive that few realize its magnitude and scope. Beginning the night of November 21 at 8 o'clock and lasting ten days the public will have an opportunity to judge of the vastness of the undertaking. The exhibit will be held at the armory and will be open daily from 10 o'clock in the morning until 10 o'clock at night with the exception of Sunday and Thanksgiving day, when it will open at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and remain open until 10 o'clock at night.

Scope Comprehensive.

Everything that relates to the child, and through the child to the parent, will be dealt with. To epitomize the exhibit it will consist of screens, moving pictures, live exhibits, model dairy, model tenement, free clinics, model dining-room and kitchen, dirty and clean barn, model playground, demonstration of the work done at the School for the Blind and the Babies' Milk Fund will have a booth which will be in charge of a trained nurse, where mothers can leave their babies, and where fresh pure milk will be provided.

The conditions and needs of Kentucky children will be shown in the following sections: Health, schools, the child and the law, settlements and educational movement, recreation, industrial conditions, moral and religious life, country life and schools, philanthropy and homes.

Five hundred volunteer "explainers" working in four-hour shifts will be well drilled in the particular branch they are to elucidate and will give any information desired.

The officers of the Kentucky Child Welfare Exhibit are: Mrs. Morris Belknap, president; Mrs. Alfred Brandies, first vice president; Miss Elizabeth Walsh, second vice president; Mrs. L. W. Thompson, secretary; Dr. Anna Louise Strong, director; Miss Adele Brandies, assistant director.

Various committees and subcommittees have been working in their departments and the results already accomplished have been extremely gratifying to those in charge.

Much Detail Involved.

The tremendous amount of detail work attached to such a stupendous undertaking can be grasped only faintly by a visit to the headquarters in the Armory. The only handicap thus far encountered is the very serious one of money. The New York Child Welfare Exhibit shows cost $100,000 and were visited by 250,000. The screens used there were used in Chicago, and in addition $50,000 was expended. Their efforts were awarded by an attendance of 410,000. Exhibits have been held in Kansas City and Northampton, Mass., and are to be held in St. Louis and Montreal. Then Kentucky Child Welfare Exhibit has secured nearly $4,000 so far, but much more is needed. Donations may be sent to the Kentucky Child Welfare Exhibit at the Armory.

The Child Welfare Exhibit has been accorded the hearty co-operation of the Board of Health, Board of Tuberculosis Hospital, various charity organizations and the churches. Statistics have been looked up, information of technical character furnished, reports on local conditions in various branches have been submitted and tabulated after being verified. The various committees total 230 men and women. But, as is usually the case where committees are appointed, a few active spirits do the work and the others come strong on the suggestion end. That the workers, the real workers, have been unremitting in their efforts is shown by the splendid results achieved.

CHILDREN TO ENTERTAIN

Choruses of school children, folk-dancing and gymnastic exhibitions, kindergarten and folk-games, drills and athletic contests by the Boy Scouts, Y. M. C. A., Y. M. H. A., the Turners, and many other organizations, will take place in the Central Court every afternoon and evening except Sunday. Free moving pictures on Child Welfare will be given afternoon and evening.

On Friday evening and Saturday afternoon, November 22-23, the Historical Pageant given in Central Park in May, 1911, will be repeated.

The directors and managers of the Louisville Exhibit have been preparing for their great task since the National Child Labor Association held its annual convention in Louisville last January. The enthusiasm and inspiration aroused at that time has been productive of such excellent results that Dr. Strong unhesitatingly asserts that the Louisville Exhibit will be the most enjoyable and successful in the history of the entire movement. She has secured the services of 500 young Louisville girls who are studying their various parts and will devote their full time during the week of the exhibit to explaining the various exhibits and giving information and guidance to visitors.

GREAT SCHOOL CONVENTION.

In connection with the Kentucky Child Welfare Conference and Exhibit, two other notable conventions will be held in Louisville: the Child Welfare Conference proper will be held November 25th and the Exhibit will continue until November 30th. The Southern Educational Association will hold its annual convention at Louisville, beginning November 28th and continuing three days. It is expected that one thousand southern teachers will attend this convention. Mrs. Charles C. Weaver, of Louisville, has taken advantage of the Southern Educational Association and of the Child Welfare Conference, which will be in progress at that time, to call a convention of school improvement workers, the first ever held in the world.

SETTLEMENT WORK.

Believing that boys and girls gain new and broader views through social gatherings, working clubs and wholesome books, the directors of exhibit will show what the boy scouts are doing, as well as activities of social settlements, the work of the travelling libraries and will provide a model children's library room where children visiting the exhibit may read and have their "Story Hour."

WOMAN IS TO BE THE DIRECTOR

DR. ANNA LOUISE STRONG, EXPERIENCED WORKER, TO HAVE CHARGE OF EXHIBIT.

TO PORTRAY CONDITIONS

Many Deaths Among Kentucky Children Could be Prevented—This will be an important subject before the Conference.

The scope of the Kentucky Child Welfare Conference and Exhibit at Louisville, November 21-30 is limited only by the conditions surrounding child life. Dr. Anna Louise Strong, a young woman in her early twenties, is the Director of the Exhibit. Dr. Strong is a Ph. D. from the University of Chicago and has directed the Child Welfare Exhibits in New York, Chicago, Kansas City and Montreal and is the most notable figure in America in this work. Under her supervision nearly $100,000 was spent in preparing for the New York exhibit. The great bulk of this money was spent in securing views and screens of child life in the school, in its home, whether in tenements or palaces, in settlement and educational movements, recreation grounds and industrial conditions, as well as to show its moral and religious life and to show the operation of phlathropic movements and the management of philanthropic homes. To this invaluable collection of screens was added about $50,000 worth of screens prepared for the Chicago Child Welfare Exhibit and subsequently valuable additions were made on account of the Kansas City and Montreal exhibits. All the screens used in the previous exhibits, as well as hundreds of views of Louisville and Kentucky conditions, will be shown at the Kentucky Exhibit and Conference this month.

The officers of the exhibit, who have given generously of their time, money and energy to further the enterprise for the sake of the Kentucky boy and girl, have endeavored to enlist the active co-operation of philanthropic workers throughout Kentucky, but owing to the newness of the venture have met without a great deal of success. However, they have secured reduced railroad rates into Louisville for the occasion and Mrs. Morris B. Belknap, president of the association and chief worker in preparing for the Louisville Exhibit, expresses the hope that every county and community in Kentucky will be largely represented.

Miss Adele Brandies, a notable settlement worker of Louisville, is the assistant director of the Louisville exhibit.

Health.

Then Kentucky officers have compiled statistics showing that a large number of deaths among children can be prevented by proper feeding and care, as well as showing the startling fact that one child died for every four that are born.

In the health exhibit will be shown a milk station, babies' hospital room, dental clinic, pure food show, anti tuberculosis exhibit and a model dairy. This exhibit will be under the supervision of the Kentucky State Board of Health, which is co-operating with the officers of the Kentucky Child Welfare Association to its fullest extent in an endeavor to exhibit the cause and prevention of feeble-mindedness and blindness. Numerous photographs and charts have been collected along this line.

Moral Life.

The larger part now taken by the church in the child's weekday amusements makes religion more real to him than it was to his grandfathers and grandmothers in their boyhood and girlhood days. Under this heading the institutional church will show what they are doing for the reclamation of the children, as well as for the reclamation of the young men and young women. There will be a model Sunday School room with classes going on at stated hours. The Y. M. C. A., the Y. W. C. A., the Y. M. H. A. and the Girl Friendly Society will have photographs and charts showing how they are combining religious, physical and mental training.

Schools.

Boys and girls learn more quickly when education is varied to meet their individual needs and capacities. One of the largest exhibits will be that of the Louisville public schools, composed of photographs, charts and class rooms, where the parents may see the children actively engaged in kindergarten and primary and other grade work, as well as domestic science, drawing, music, manual training, and other modern school room activities.

Photographs of schools in other cities, with charts giving facts as to cost, equipment and organization, will indicate some of the lines along which the Louisville schools hope to develop. A room will be devoted to an Exhibit of the Wider Use of the School Plant, including Social Centers, School Gardens and Vacation Schools and Parent-Teachers' Associations.

The Kentucky School for the Blind will make an exhibit of its interesting and important work.

Recreation.

Play time can teach children how to pull together and to "tote fair."

A model Playground, fully equipped, will open to the children under the direction of regular supervisors. Photographs and charts showing what Louisville is furnishing the children in the way of recreation, can be seen here, also some of the future plans of the Board of Park Commissioners. Striking features of moving picture shows, dance halls, and other commercial amusements will form part of this section.

Country Life and Schools.

Kentucky farms, forests and streams are waiting for the boy and girl who is learning to use them.

The child in the country needs as fine a school as the child in the city. Conditions that affect child life in the country as distinguished from the city will here be made clear. The valuable lessons country boys and girls are learning from the Corn and Tomato Clubs will be shown and rural schools and housing conditions explained by photographs and models.

This Exhibit will be the first of its kind ever made in a Child Welfare Exhibit.

The Child and the Law.

The law is to protect, not to oppress, the child.

This section will show the work and the needs of institutions established by law for the care of neglected, dependent and delinquent children. It will also present the laws now existing for the protection of children, with suggestions for further legislation.

Industrial Conditions.

The wages in a family and the kind of work done decide largely the child's manner of life.

Figures and charts will give the wages of men and women, the accidents to industrial workers, the cost of living, and the result of these wages and accidents upon the child's life. Pictures and stories will show the harm done a child by selling papers, delivering messages and working indoors.

Homes.

The ideal place for the child should be its own home.

This section will be one of the most attractive of the whole exhibit. Here will be shown a three-room apartment furnished for a hundred dollars, a model playground with toys that are playable and durable and games and home occupations for children, practical outfits of children's clothes made of materials that will wear well. A display of wholesome food will be on view. Features of good and bad housing conditions in Louisville will form a striking feature of this section.

Philanthropy.

A dependent child is one who by poverty, the illness or death of parents, or bad home surroundings is deprived of a fair chance in life. Philanthropy consists largely in caring for this child.

Striking drawings, photographs and statements will show how this child is supported in its own home, placed in another home or cared for in an institution. This section will also touch on the work with deaf and dumb and crippled children and those unfortunate in other ways.

Lameness

Sloan's Liniment is a quick and reliable remedy for lameness in horses and other farm animals.

"Sloan's Liniment surpasses anything on earth for lameness in horses and other farm animals. I would not sleep without it in my stable."

MARTIN DOWLE,
402 West 19th St., New York City.

Good for Swelling and Abscess.
Mr. H. M. Gress, of Lawrence, Kan., R. F. D. No. 2, writes: "I had a mare with an abscess on her neck and one 60c bottle of Sloan's Liniment entirely cured her. I keep it all the time for galls and small swellings and for everything about the stock."

SLOAN'S LINIMENT

is a quick and safe remedy for hog cholera.

Governor of Georgia uses Sloan's Liniment for Hog Cholera.

"I heard Gov. Brown (who is quite a farmer) say that he had never lost a hog from cholera and that his remedy always was a tablespoonful of Sloan's Liniment in a gallon of slop, decreasing the dose as the animal improved. Last month Gov. Brown and myself were at the Agricultural College building and in the discussion of the ravages of the disease, Gov. Brown gave the remedy named as unfailing."

Address Dr. Earl S. Sloan, Boston.

Some Reasons Why.

There are many good reasons for electing Woodrow Wilson. They may be thus summarized. People had about determined that:

The burdensome, disheartening cost of living was only to be arrested in its upward course, only to be reduced by downward revision of the tariff.

That monopoly must be shorn of its power and competition given a chance.

That the people in selecting candidates for all offices from the presidency down must, in their own defense, have a voice immediately ascertainable and registerable.

That many, if not most, tariff taxes should no longer avail to enrich a few and crush down the remainder.

That campaigns should be no longer financed by corporations acting in the dark and expecting to benefit by their contributions.

That injunction proceedings against labor must cease to be discriminating.

That banking reform must be of such character as to effectually prevent "corners" in money.

That, after all, this was intended to be a Government of the people, by the people, and for the people, and it was high time to give that time-honored, pious axiom a practical trying out.

Dozens of other admirable, convincing and compelling reasons could doubtless be found, but these will suffice. Perhaps they could all be summed up in the words: "The people wanted a change."

For any pain, from top to toe, from any cause, apply Dr. Thomas' Electric Oil. Pain can't stay where it is used.

NOVEMBER

November's here!
Ring out the bells of Autumn cheer!
Forsooth, the softly fleeting year,
In his rich diadem of days,
Wears not a jewel, whose glinting rays
Can e'er surpass in deathless glow,
This glad November that we know!

November's here!
The dying leaves grow brown and sere,
The end of Nature's bloom is near.
Yon ribbon o' road gleams ghostly white,
There in the harvest-moon's calm light.
Ah, sing the song full sweet and low
For sad November that we know!

November's here!
How patiently the corn-stalks rear
Their hoary heads, while frost-sprites leer
Upon them from their new-built homes,
Through which the youthful dew-drop roams.
Ah, all too swiftly will it go,
This dear November that we know!

—J. Corson Miller.

AIN'T IT FINE TODAY?

Sure, this world is full of trouble—
I ain't said it ain't.
Lord! I've had enough, an' double,
Reason for complaint.
Rain and storm have come to fret me,
Skies were often gray;
Thorns and brambles have beset me
On the road—but say,
Ain't it fine today!

What's the use of always weepin' /
Makin' trouble last?
What's the use of always keepin' /
Thinkin' of the past?
Each must have his tribulation,
Water with his wine,
Life, it ain't no celebration.
Trouble? I've had mine—
But today is fine!

It's today that I am livin',
Not a month ago;
Havin', losin', takin', givin',
As time wills it so.
Yesterday a cloud of sorrow
Fell across the way;
It may rain again tomorrow
It may rain—but say,
Ain't it fine today!

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
